The Vermont Aerospace and Aviation Association: Delivering Results & Value

"Thanks. Appreciate a great event and the outstanding hospitality. I have already touched base with our director of supplier integration and procurement. He will follow up with some of the companies particularly the composite manufacturers. Thank you again for hosting us as it is always great to be back in Vermont." - Steve O'Bryan, Lockheed Martin

"On behalf of the more than 4,400 companies, airports, elected officials, non-profits, farmers and organizations, pilots and citizens that make up the Alliance for Aviation Across America, I wish to extend our sincere thanks and gratitude to all of you for your work to make the Vermont Aerospace & Aviation Proclamation, signed by Gov. Douglas a reality. Our entire team is very energized by the efforts you are undertaking to strengthen the Green Mountain State's economy through support of aerospace and aviation initiatives and development. We look forward to continuing our work with you!" - Ernest Baynard, Alliance for Aviation Across America

"I just wanted to thank you again for your personal support, and for the support of the Vermont Chamber as we continue to, step-by-step, build an outstanding educational destination for the next generation of aviation enthusiasts here at Burlington Airport." - Sandra Bolger, Vermont Flight Academy

"My regional director came from Binghamton, NY for the event and was he ever impressed!" - Leslie Germain, Manpower

"Great event yesterday! The manufacturers that I talked to (many!) really sensed the optimism and excitement. And they really like the networking opportunity! I'm excited about the next VAAA Open House and the opportunity to showcase what VMEC can do to assist VAAA manufacturers to be more competitive in their supply chains and implement a strategy of innovation (including a network of innovation in VT and beyond) to be more profitable." - Patricia Giavara, Vermont Manufacturing Extension Center

"Excellent event! Everything went really smoothly and on time. Thank you for coordinating the Aviation Technical School grant award and allowing us to display the project. I am looking forward to participating with the Vermont Chamber and the next VAAA Open House." - Jesse Beck, Freeman French Freeman, Inc.

"Revision Eyewear joined the Vermont Chamber of Commerce to support the work of the VAAA and the benefit has been tremendous. The connections and collaboration that we are able to achieve at VAAA events is definitely worthwhile." - Gregory Maguire, Revision Eyewear.
